

Open Enrollment 2025:

Successfully Navigate Insurance Changes

Patient/resident coverage changes and updates to insurance plans can increase claims denials and delay claims submissions and processing – which puts considerable strain on your revenue cycle.

Avoid the administrative burden and revenue disruption with these tips:

- 1 Improve cash flow and maximize reimbursement rates with accurate and updated coverage details for patients and residents before, during, and after the open enrollment period.
- 2 Leverage single or batch processing to regularly monitor changes to insurance coverage for your patient or resident census.
- 3 Shorten time to treatment and verify demographic data while identifying unknown insurance coverage with basic wallet information.
- 4 Receive weekly automatic checks to verify Medicare eligibility status and Medicare as a secondary payer, and eliminate costly compliance errors related to eligibility.
- 5 Run eligibility checks prior to claims submission to reduce coverage errors and manage or track audits and appeals in a comprehensive denial management solution.

Open Enrollment dates to know

Affordable Care Act Open Enrollment

Open Enrollment begins

Coverage takes effect for those enrolled by Dec. 15

Open Enrollment ends

Medicare Open Enrollment

Open Enrollment begins

Open Enrollment ends

Coverage takes effect

Private Insurance Payers Open Enrollment

Open Enrollment begins

Open Enrollment ends

Coverage takes effect

See for Yourself!

Optimize your revenue cycle with cloud-based solutions that take the surprises out of Open Enrollment.

Discover Solutions

Schedule a Demo