

Fix the Clinical Trial Patient Screening Bottleneck With Real-Time Eligibility Checks

Screening is where most enrollment timelines begin to slip.

Trial eligibility is still confirmed through manual chart review and self-reported patient history, a process that can take weeks and still miss key clinical encounters.

Eligible patients get missed, and ineligible ones reach the site.

The Biggest Bottlenecks in Clinical Trials

The numbers behind clinical trial patient screening delays:

80% of clinical trials miss their initial enrollment timeline

36.3% average screen failure rate across global phase II and III trials

54.9% of screen failures trace back to unmet inclusion criteria

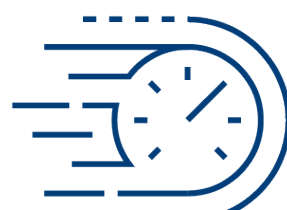

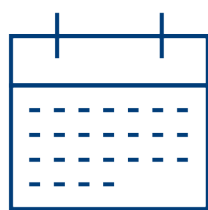

5.5% of patient's self-reported health histories fully matched their EHR data

Eligibility Decisions in Seconds

What used to take weeks to confirm patients' clinical trial eligibility can now happen in seconds.

Inovalon's Clinical Trial Eligibility Screener™ references primary source claims data in real time and delivers the structured, trial-specific eligibility decisions quickly and accurately.

Real-Time Answers You Can Trust

Each patient is evaluated against individual inclusion/exclusion criteria for the requested trial and returns one of three clear outcomes:

Pass
Meets clinical trial eligibility criteria

Fail
Does not meet criteria

Inconclusive
Missing data identified for further review

The Difference Is in the Data

Eligibility decisions depend on the depth and reliability of the data behind them.

Clinical Trial Eligibility Screener draws on 300M+ unique lives and 99B+ medical events, capturing diagnoses, labs, prescriptions, procedures, and vaccinations.

A more complete patient picture means fewer unknowns at screening and greater confidence in every decision.

A Cleaner Recruitment Pipeline

Fewer unqualified referrals

Less rework for sites

Faster enrollment

Clinical Trial Eligibility Screener validates before referral, so you can surface more candidates who match the full trial inclusion and exclusions criteria.

Ready to Move Qualified Candidates Forward?

Schedule a meeting to learn how Inovalon's Clinical Trial Eligibility Screener helps you qualify patients instantly and accelerate enrollment with confidence.

Schedule Consultation